

SCITE POLL ON MONDAY LAST ONES PLURALITY GOVT CONTROL

Probably at no previous plebiscite or election has a greater interest in the issues at large been taken than was evinced on Monday last when the issue "wet" or "dry" was at stake, and it was in no uncertain tone that the voice of the people was heard as a result of the day's polling.

Reduce Rail Distance

A reduction in the Canadian National Railway mileage between Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg will be effected by the opening of service on the Long Lake cutoff on December 1st. By means of this cutoff, which is 20 miles in length, the distance from Winnipeg to Montreal will be reduced by 70 miles and 102 miles will be cut off the travelling distance between Winnipeg and Toronto. Three hours will be saved between Montreal and Winnipeg, and four hours between Winnipeg and Toronto. Construction Transcontinental line with the old Canadian Northern main line through Ontario, will give the Canadian National the shortest route of any railway operating between eastern and western cities.

One Crop Pays For Farm

With low-priced farm land and heavy yields of grain, in Alberta this year, some farmers have been able to accomplish wonders in the way of financing their farms. Williams Bros. of Consort, purchased a farm in the fall of 1922, which they prepared for crop last year and needed to wait this year. They report that the crop they have taken off this fall has paid the expenses and purchase price of the land in addition.

MISS ELSIE McLUHAN RENOUNDED RECITER TO VISIT WAINWRIGHT

Mr. R. G. Dunsmore, to whom the town owes many pleasant evenings of dramatic entertainment, has again been fortunate in his choice and informs us that he has been able to secure the well-known and renowned reciter and impersonator Miss Elsie McLuhan, of Winnipeg for an evening's entertainment at the theatre on Wednesday, November 21st, next.

Miss McLuhan, who has been touring from her home city to the coast has just closed a week's engagement in Vancouver, and is also booked for a further week's engagement there at a later date.

We understand that the affair will be entirely in the hands of Mr. Dunsmore and will be given under the auspices of the Wainwright Dramatic Club; the proceeds of the evening to be devoted to the memorial tower fund of the I. O. D. E.

A further announcement will appear next week, and tickets and plans will be open at Gerow's drug store at the end of this week.

ALBERTA FLOUR MILLS MAY BE TAKEN OVER

There is a possibility that Alberta Flour Mills, Ltd., may be taken over by the group of British millers who have been investigating the possibilities of investment in the Canadian milling industry. This group is headed by Sir William Nicholls.

Alberta Flour Mills was started during the war to build a mill in Calgary to take advantage of the short haul from Calgary to Vancouver on flour shipments. The mill has never been completely financed, and many causes contributed to the difficulty of raising the money necessary to complete it. For the past two years or so the half-finished mill has been standing idle in Calgary.

Negotiations are believed to have taken place regarding the linking up of the Alberta Flour Mills enterprise with the British milling scheme.

English Woman Remembered Act Edgerton Man

How would you like to meet your opening mail these hard times and find a London Bank draft for a life fund? This was the pleasant experience of A. E. Ripley, veteran implement dealer of Edgerton.

During the war, about eight years ago, Mr. Ripley was instrumental in obtaining transportation back to England for English soldiers fighting in Canada, at a time when transportation was very difficult to secure. This lady greatly appreciated his efforts on her behalf and before leaving informed that she would never forget what she had done. Some time ago she died in England, and her will left Mr. Ripley on sole beneficiary. To Friday morning's mail he received the proceeds of the estate in the draft above mentioned; a handsome reward for his services freely rendered.—Edgerton Journal.

New Creamery Being Built At Edgerton

A long felt want for the Edgerton community is being filled by Messrs Patterson and Dykstra of Vegreville who are building an up-to-date creamery at this point. Mr. Patterson visited here some time ago looking over the ground and securing some information relative to the creamery business which so impressed him with the possibilities of successfully opening a branch here that a building has been started and which will be rushed to completion. R. Patterson of Edgerton is in charge of the work and has a gang of men busy in order to take advantage of the favorable weather.

Heavy Tourist Traffic

Figures produced by J. Wardle, Superintendent of Banff Park, show that exceptionally heavy auto tourist traffic was recorded in the park this year. He states that up to September 23, 8082 cars had visited the park.

A total of 4520 cars passed over the new Banff-Windermere road during the season, carrying, it is estimated, more than 20,000 visitors, mostly from the United States.

Alberta has won additional honour through the medium of the Edmonton Grads, basketball team, champions of the world, who have been granted permission by the amateur union of Canada to represent the dominion in Paris and France, in 1924, during the Olympic games.

Gifts Made of Buffalo Robes

A handsome buffalo robe, made from the hide of one of the first of the Wainwright buffalo to be slaughtered under the recent arrangement for thinning out the herds in the big park, was presented to Hon. Frank Oliver by Liberator friends and old-timers at a banquet tendered to Mr. Oliver Wednesday evening.

The hide with the thick, curly hair on it, has turned into a beautiful soft robe, while the tail of the animal, used as an ornament where the buffalo normally wears its tail in life, is affixed to the robe as a further evidence that the robe is the genuine thing. It is stated that at a conservative valuation a robe of this kind is worth a hundred dollars.—Journal

LETTERS to the EDITOR

We are not responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.

The Editor:—Dear Sir, At the last annual meeting of the municipal council I brought the subject of the ratpayers working eight hours per day and to receive six dollars per day for eight hours' work. My reason for doing so was that eight hours is a lawful day; all government work is eight hours.

When we first came on the land, fifteen years ago, land was worth from $100 to $500 per acre and we worked with team and ship for $5.00 or $6.00 per day. All things that we now buy are away up 100 or more per cent, while things that we sell are down to about what I received fifteen years ago.

We old-timers are the ones who have put up the price of land by improving and cultivating it. When we first came here there were no public roads anywhere; we followed the trails which we originally made.

Now, sir, it is fair for us to improve the district pay increased taxes, but improved machinery (which will four times the amount of work). Our roads are a credit to the district, and need but little work each year now to keep them in repair. With improved machinery we cannot do our road work to pay our taxes; this year very few have been asked to do so.

If a vote is taken at the next meeting I think we will fall in line with all others and move with the times. Trusting Mr. Editor, I have not taken too much of your space, as I believe you are in favor of fair play, yours truly, SAMUEL KITCHEN, Sr.

Poppy Day Campaign

Sixty-eight capes of poppies, containing one hundred and thirty thousand poppies, have now reached the Poppy Day Headquarters for the Province of Alberta, and the staff has been increased in order that all orders for poppies are met without delay.

While most of the towns in the Province are already booked up, it is the earnest desire of the officials to have every town, large or small, supplied with poppies in order that the reverence to our fallen soldiers who fell in the great cause of humanity.

The Citizen of Ottawa, quotes Lloyd George when speaking at Montreal recently upon the work done by the Canadians in the war, as having "made the difference between the world as it was and the world as it is today."

Are we going to pay a tribute to these men who gave their all? Has our town taken steps to ensure a supply of these poppies? Surely there is some organization, friendly society, church, body, in our town interested in this Poppy Campaign. If so, they should get in touch with the Provincial Secretary, G.W.V.A., Calgary, immediately and make known their requirements.

Bishop Lloyd of Saskatchewan has interested himself in the establishment of a hostel to receive English schoolboys wishing to complete their education in Canada. The cost for each boy to cover board and lodging, clothes and books will be $25 a month.

Stocker and Feeder Show

A stocker and feeder show is being held in Lethbridge during the coming week, along similar lines to that held some time ago in Calgary.

Pretty Double Wedding Is Celebrated at Geo. Murray Home

A pretty little double wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Murray on Wednesday last when Miss Margaret Annie Murray and her brother Mr. Harold Murray became the bride and groom respectively of Mr. William J. Hore and Miss Myrtle E. Hore, the contracting parties being brother and sister in each case. The Rev. G. Pylus performed the nuptials in the presence of the immediate relatives of the happy couples.

Record Grain Movement

Records for grain handling are being established this year by the Canadian National Railways on their western route. The average daily car loadings this year are nearly 200 cars higher than during the same period of last year, and though movement of grain along C.N.R. lines started nearly three weeks later this year than last, the movement has been over 16,000 cars in the last week of September, 1st and October 25th of this year. Between those dates a total of 62,791,000 bushels was loaded against 56,572,000 bushels in the corresponding period of last year, an increase of over 5,000,000 bushels.

HISTORICAL WRITING RECORDS GREATEST NATURAL DISASTER

One of the most thrilling and instructive stories written in recent years is contained in the official report of Captain S. Robinson, R. N. R., commander of the Canadian Pacific S. S. "Australia" for the Japanese earthquake, the fire and subsequent relief operations issued in booklet form by the Canadian Pacific Steamships Ltd.

In the vernacular of the bridge, Captain Robinson relates the incidents of the disaster as they were brought to his notice, from noon of Saturday, September 1st, when, as his ship was preparing to leave the dock at Yokohama, the first earthquake took place, until September 12th, when, after encountering innumerable difficulties, a fouled propeller, a sea of burning oil and serving as a hospital and relief ship for the earthquake sufferers, the "Australia" left the stricken Orient for Vancouver.

Stories of Captain Robinson's heroism outstanding seamanship with which he upheld the traditions of the Royal Navy Reserve, and consideration for the suffering ones at great personal cost and effort, have been accorded a large publicity which is their due, but the Captain's report is modest in the extreme, and although one can glean from it some of the great problems which presented themselves to him, the "hero of the disaster" reports only the good work executed these incidents with relief work. It is therefore fitting that the Company should include in the booklet letter addressed to the Captain by the refugees, passengers on the ship and the American relief committee in recognition and appreciation of his skillful handling of the many critical situations which presented themselves.

The report is an historical document recording the greatest natural disaster known to man and certainly no library will be complete without charge from the Canadian Pacific offices at Montreal.

HARVESTERS OF OLD COUNTRY IN WINTER BILLETS ON ALTA. FARMS

Prompt action by the Dominion Government to avert any unemployment amongst British harvesters and to obviate the need of these newcomers to return to Great Britain has resulted in the assurance of a permanent winter position on the farm for every one who desires to remain.

The Honourable J. A. Robt. Minister of Immigration recently decided to utilize the maximum of the Soldier Settlement Board in an endeavour to locate opportunities sufficient to keep these Britishers in our midst. The Board's field men were instructed during their rounds through the country to list those farmers who were willing to take a British harvester for the winter months at a reasonable wage. The results were immediate and the results exceeded all expectations, in fact to the extent that it became necessary to wire instructions to stop this canvass after it had been running two weeks. During this time more than four thousand three hundred (4,300) permanent winter positions were offered by the farmers in Alberta, alone. The newcomers themselves were impressed by the striking contrast of conditions where a preliminary canvass disclosed the overwhelming number of jobs waiting willing hands and the conditions in the Old Land they had recently left where the ranks of the unemployed numbered over one million and a quarter. This immediate response from Alberta farmers offered striking testimony to the fact that a decided turn for the better has been experienced in this Province. It also illustrates the feeling of the Western farmer towards this sturdy class of British immigrants. The great majority of the positions located are with farmers who have signified their willingness in writing to take a man for the winter months at wages ranging from ten to twenty-five dollars per month with board. If man and wife can be procured forty to sixty dollars and board is offered. Work in the woods is also offered in the northern part of the Province at an average daily wage of four dollars a day one dollar of which must be paid for board. Mining work is also available at the going wage, whilst the northern lakes offer fishing work at thirty-five to fifty dollars per month. Thus all the positions offered are directly concerned with the development of our natural resources. All of them carry work for the entire winter and offer wages which are considered reasonable for the newcomer acquiring experience.

The canvass made by the Soldier Settlement Board, though of short duration, has revealed the fact that complete work exists for every British harvester who desires to remain in the country, and the lists of actual positions are available whenever the men, the bulk of whom are at present engaged in harvesting our splendid crop, are ready to take them. All the employers have signified in writing their willingness to take a man and the Soldier Settlement Board have operated very closely in this work with the Railway Companies and the Employment Service of Canada, with whom complete lists of the vacant positions have been filed. Because the bulk of these harvesters are now in transient work, moving from place to place, it is considered essential to give some publicity so that when their harvest work is completed, they may get in touch with the opportunities already located for them.

How to get the Job

The Soldier Settlement Board have thirty eight (38) field agents scattered throughout the small towns of Alberta. Every field agent has a list of the vacant positions in his district and will be glad to direct any British harvester who applies to him.

The Board's field agent has in turn notified the Railway Station Agent nearest where the job is located and every station agent has been instructed to advise the vacancies in his immediate locality. The Board's main offices in Edmonton and Calgary have complete lists of the vacant positions in the Province and are therefore able to co-operate closely with the Employment Service of Canada with whom copies of the complete lists of opportunities have been filed. Thus the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Canadian National Railway, the Employment Service of Canada, the Soldier Settlement Board, representing the Immigration Department of Canada, and

MR BONAR LAW, BRITAIN'S PREMIER DIES FROM CANCER

London.—Andrew Bonar Law, for seven months premier of Great Britain died, in his modest London home at three o'clock last Wednesday morning.

Premier King said, referring to the death of Bonar Law that in no part of the Empire would deeper sympathy be felt than in Canada which claimed him as one of her own sons. "His unblemished career unflinching courage, sound judgement and administrative capacity, had been of incalculable service to the empire," declared the premier, "and he passes a gentleman unafraid into the great beyond and leaves behind a name and memory which will be ever honored."

Bonar Law was born in New Brunswick in 1855. His father was a Scottish Presbyterian minister. The future prime minister of England was sent to Scotland at an early age. His family connection with Canada thereupon practically ceased, although he was always eager to visit his public duties and in social relations to maintain his warm interest in the dominion.

NEW SALES LEVY WILL BE EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1st

The new regulations for the collection of the new six per cent sales tax have now been completed by the department of customs and excise at Ottawa and will come into force on January 1st, next.

The purpose of the new sales tax law and regulations is to collect the tax at the source, instead of having a series of smaller taxes collected on each sale as at present. It also provided that a similar tax of six per cent be payable on imported goods.

Sales tax licenses now in force will be cancelled on January 1st. The department of customs and excise is sending to each dealer licensed under the present law a copy of the new law and the new regulations to enable him to see whether he needs to take on a license under the new legislation.

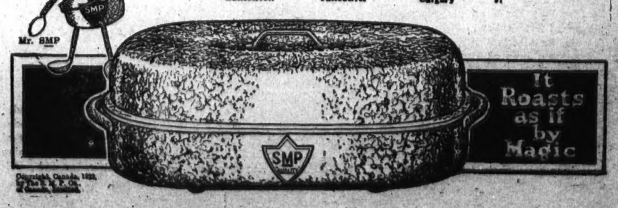

September Trade Results Causing Some Concern

Those who are watching the trend of Canadian trade from the standpoint of employment in the industries of the country are viewing with some concern the condition revealed by the recently published trade returns for September. It is being pointed out by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association that, as compared with September, 1922, there has been an increase of over $15,000,000 in the value of goods imported for consumption. Were this accompanied by an equal or greater increase in the export of Canadian products, there might not be any special cause for anxiety, but unfortunately, all but have gone back by $4,000,000. The result is that where Canada had a favorable balance of trade of $11,000,000 in September, 1922, it has an adverse balance of $1,000,000 this year, a change of $15,000,000 in the wrong direction. It is considered likely to be being brought into the country and no counterbalancing export of Canadian products is being carried on.

Other useful and willing organizations have combined in a co-operative endeavour with one object in view, namely, to insure winter employment for these newly arrived Britishers at reasonable wages so as to avert any possibility of discomfort or distress amongst them and to endeavor to retain them in our midst as new Canadians.

The net result of this co-operative effort for such a short period is that over four thousand three hundred (4,300) positions are waiting for these men, information as to which may be procured by any of the field agents of the Soldier Settlement Board, Supervisor, or Employment offices.

And the greatest co-operation of all has been from the Alberta farmer who has signified his approval in an immediate and generous and forceful manner and it was the spontaneous and wholehearted response of the farmer himself who rendered it necessary to cancel the canvass for positions after two weeks, during which time more than three hundred positions a day were offered. Because there are more jobs for these harvesters than there are harvesters to fill them, it is obvious that some farmers who are disappointed but all the organizations whose efforts have been co-ordinated to find them positions are making every endeavour to fill these vacancies and encourage the harvesters to stay with us.

WAINWRIGHT, ALBERTA NOVEMBER 7th, 1923

THANKSGIVING

The yellow has gone from the maples.
The birds fly away to the South, I hear the great blast of the North wind.
A trumpet with storms in its mouth.
Ere long and the snow will be falling.
The twilight comes early and cold, And the beautiful runes of the summer shall be but as tales that are told.
Yet now is the time for Thanksgiving.
For music and greetings and mirth,
A song for the old folks we honor.
A song for the little one's birth.
In the home as we joyfully gather,
As gayly we sit at the board,
We lift up our praise to the Father, Accept our thanksgiving, O Lord!

FIRST DUTY

The two purposes of a country newspaper are to make money and to serve the community. Making money is put first, for the paper that is not making money cannot serve the community; it is bound to be a poor down-at-the-heels affair. You owe it to your community to make your paper make money.

When you next feel like jumping on the editor because something or other happened and it wasn't in the paper—just have a heart and remember one can do but one's best. Give us a hand once in a while with a local item you happen to know of—it will be appreciated. Let us have the names of your visitors, the name of the place you have, or are intending to visit, your jokes, your anything else. But never mind your woes and worries—we have lots of our own.

We would like to draw the attention of our readers to the fact there has been a change made in the money order business and that when money is to be transmitted to the U. S. they should state the fact to the postmaster and thus save time and trouble.

THE POSTMASTER

AND THE PUBLIC

Did you ever give a moment's thought to the hours of duty that are put in daily by the staff of your local post office, and the hundreds of things that have to be thought of and attended to, correctly and quickly, to give you the good service which you expect?
There are so many ways in which you can assist the post office to give you that service, and they are all so small and easy that everybody can do them without the slightest inconvenience to themselves. Here are some of the ways to remove the wrinkles from the post office staffs' foreheads.

If there is a vacant post office box to be had in the post office—rent it.
The cost is but a few cents a day. If your time is worth anything at all, you will save money by not having to wait at the wicket for your mails.

Put your box number on ever letter you write, with the name of the post office from which you receive your mail. There are lots of Smiths' Browns and Jones everywhere, and it is very annoying when someone else opens your letters.

If your children call for the mail let one of them do it. It is not necessary to have the whole family call one after the other, and then when a lot of children get collected together they naturally make a lot of noise, which tends to interrupt the post office staff when they are busy sorting the mails which calls for the closest concentration of mind and careful work. To help the staff to give quick service in the sorting of mails, see to it that your children are not causing a lot of disturbance in the lobby of the office, thus interrupting the staff.

Don't ask them not to hand your mail to anyone but yourself. Post office employees have but human brains. Rent a box and keep the combination or key to yourself.

Never send a parcel without insuring it. Three cents will insure it up to five dollars, and it is a mighty poor parcel that is not worth three cents.

Put your name and address on the upper left hand corner of every letter you write, and the stamp in the upper right hand corner.

Don't put money in a letter—buy a money order or a postal note, then if it gets lost the post office will gladly issue a duplicate, and some hard working postal employees will not be suspected of stealing it. If you must put cash in—register it.

Don't put inland revenue stamps on your letters, they are not postage stamps, and will not carry the letter to its destination.

Pack your parcels carefully, address them with ink, using good thick wrapping paper and twine.

Buy your postage stamps at your local post office. The postmaster's pay depends upon his sale of stamps, and the more stamps you buy of him the better service he can afford to give you.

Don't grumble at the regulations.
They were made for your benefit and protection as well as the staff's. Your local postmaster did not make them.
He is just doing his duty in carrying them out strictly. Try to help him and the staff do it right, and make things pleasanter for everyone.

If you forget to do your post office business between eight in the morning and seven at night, don't worry the post office staff. To see if they will hand your mail or write a money order or register a letter, etc. They have long hours and are certainly entitled to have a little time off and the best tempered people in the world are liable to get snappy sometimes. They would not be human beings if they didn't.

Don't be disappointed if you do not receive or get all the mail you expect when you allow the members of other families to call for your mail. The postmaster is not responsible for it after it leaves the office. It has been proven time and again that valuable mail has been lost in this manner. To be sure of getting all your mail at all times, call for it yourself.

If you are sending away for anything, give the mails time to get your letter there and the answer back.—

Threshers' Licenses

A total of 4,700 threshers' licenses have been issued by the department of agriculture up to date. This is 1,000 more than those registered last year.
It is expected the registrations will total 5,000. Those owners of separators who have not registered are asked to do so at once. They are also asked to send in their returns of threshing as soon as possible.

MUSIC IN THE HOME

Can a home be a real home without music? Oh, yes of course—after a fashion. But take a glimpse into the best homes throughout the length and breadth of our land and you are almost sure to find music in some form or other. It may be only a phonograph or a player piano, but in its way, it is music. Could there be stronger proof that music has, indeed, an almost universal appeal?

Hardly only realize what an educational and cultural influence music is in the rearing of children, they would eagerly seize the opportunity to have them study music. Some of the happiest homes are those in which all the members of the family are engaged in its study of music. It affords a common interest, draws the various members of the family together in foster companionship, and provides one of the strongest safeguards against outside influences that tend to break up and destroy the home circle. In this way a small home orchestra is easily formed and in addition to the endless amount of pleasure it affords, it gives each player practical orchestra experience which will be invaluable in a professional way.

FALLACY OF BUYING BY MAIL

How would you like to journey to the nearest city for a pound of sugar, or a yard of muslin, or a spoon of thread, or a smoke? And how would you like to make a trip when you needed a prescription filled in a hurry with death running you hard? You would make some noise of force to such an extremity—and then more noise. You would say—and justly so—that a town in which you cannot buy a pound of sugar, or a yard of muslin or a spoon of thread, or a smoke, or even get a prescription filled, is a mighty poor excuse for a town and not worth living in. Yet our merchants can only afford to keep these things for your convenience as long as you buy other things from them. It is not doing this town any good to buy the little things here and then chase off to a city or send to a catalogue house when you want something on which the merchant has a chance to make a dollar. Neither is it doing you any good, for the prosperity of each citizen is dependent to a large extent upon the prosperity of the community as a whole. We are not telling you something you do not know.
We are simply reminding your memory in hopes that the time may come when our people will conclude that a town that is worth living in is worth trading in. That's all.—Ex.

A PARABLE.

And when his competitors saw it, had advertised his goods, there came unto him great multitudes from all regions round about, and did buy from him.

And when his competitors saw it, they marvelled among themselves saying: "How is it that this man is busy, while we loaf idly about our doors," and so spoke unto them." In this last age of push and hustle, it is easier for a camel to enter the eye of a needle, than for a man to flourish without advertising."—Ex.

OUR DAIRY OUTPUT

While the production of cheese has decreased in Canada during the present century the making of creamery butter and of condensed milk products has greatly increased. In 1900 the production of cheese in this country was 220, 833, 269 pounds; in 1922 it was 134, 530, 053 pounds. In the first year of the century, 36, 006, 739 pounds of creamery butter was produced; last year the production amounted to 146, 853, 517 pounds. In 1900 the condensed milk products amounted in value to $269,520; last year they reached $6,839, 232. The butter output of the Prairie Provinces in the last dozen years has increased enormously. From being importers these provinces have become exporters and their products have received a good reception in the British market.
As regards cheese, if Canada would regain the place she formerly held in those markets, it is plain that she must adopt progressive measures such as that inaugurated on April 1 of the present year, when the official grading of factory cheese and butter intended for export commenced. In the three Prairie Provinces and in Nova Scotia, government grading of cream at the creamery has also been instituted with good results, so far as butter-making is concerned.

Provincial Revenue

A considerable increase in revenue from motor licenses has been recorded this year. The total received to date this year has been $729,410, which is about $6,000 in excess already of the amount estimated at the beginning of the year.

The revenue from the gasoline tax has also been fairly good, and it is anticipated that the estimate of $225,000 will be almost reached. In the nine months more than $185,000 has been collected, with the receipts for October always a heavy month, still to come in.
The amusement tax revenue also shows a considerable increase, the figures for the first nine months of this year being $144,264, an increase of $17,402 over the same period of last year.

Sugar Cane in Alberta

Bert Keyes, who came to Vermilion from the States last year, and settled on a section of land in that district, brought with him some sugar cane seed which he sowed on June 1st this year. When the Star's correspondent saw it on September 10, the cane had grown over six feet high and many who had never before seen sugar cane growing mistook the crop for Indian corn. It makes fine cuttings, to be preferred to either sunflowers or corn. Corn has been grown extensively in the Vermilion district this year.—Saskatoon Star.

FINANCIAL TIMES IS SHOWING ITS FAITH IN WAINWRIGHT OIL

Says Wainwright Oil Well Has Enough of the Precious Fluid to Make It Worth More Than Half a Dozen of the Montana 200-Barrel Wells

If an oil company, drilling in Alberta, were to bring in a well producing 200 barrels of petroleum a day Alberta would be thrown into a turmoil of excitement and financial circles of Canada would say the least, be deeply moved, says the "Financial Times."

An oil company, drilling in Alberta has brought in a well producing enough wet gas to make it worth half a dozen 200-barrel oil wells. Alberta has not been thrown into any turmoil and, until quite recently, financial circles have hardly been interested.

But gradually the significance of this new development is being realized. The Wainwright-Fabyan-Irma field is east central Alberta on the main line of the Canadian National railway has been proved practically beyond question to be one of the greatest gas fields in the world, and British Petroleum Limited, investigating its possibilities for oil as well as gas, gives the assurance that its first well at a depth of 200 feet struck a flow of 6,000,000 feet of gas which, under analysis, tested 25 gallons of gasoline per 100 cubic feet.

If British Petroleum had an announced that it had brought in a well producing 400 barrels of pure gasoline per day the world would have gasped. Yet the announced results of its discovery would have justified the company stating that its No. 1 well gave every indication of being able to produce just that amount of gasoline when the gas was treated for the removal of its gasoline content.

And it might, too have announced that after the gasoline was removed the dry gas could be burned and made to yield that precious product, carbon-black, which has in recent years become so much in demand that production never meets the demand.

Gasoline From Gas
There is no doubt but that this field has been given much less publicity than it deserves. Had it been found in the central United States it would have been acclaimed far and wide and in a few months punctured in a hundred places with drills. That it has been found in Alberta, far north of the great producing fields of the continent, is the more reason why it should command the attention of the financial and industrial world.

Recent developments in the Wainwright-Fabyan-Irma field are especially interesting. The Imperial Oil company and British Petroleum Limited are drilling there perhaps with more success attendant to their efforts than in the case in any other part of the province. The latter company is so well satisfied with the possibilities of the natural gas field which has been blocked out, extending over a vast area, that it is proceeding with plans to obtain gasoline and carbon-black from the gas. It is drilling its second hole and proposes putting down four more as rapidly as possible to supply gas to a gasoline absorption and carbon-black plant which is plans to erect at Wainwright in the near future.

In the United States the recovery of gasoline from material gas has reached tremendous proportions. Total annual consumption of gasoline in the United States at present is about 7,014,370,000 gallons and it is increasing at the rate of 1,122,300,000 gallons annually. Of the total consumption gasoline obtained from natural gas amounts to about 10 per cent or 701,437,500 gallons having a value of $140,287,500.

Every natural gas producing state in the United States has its plants for the recovery of gasoline from natural gas. California has 68 plants operating on the absorption system and 31 by the compression system with a total production of 444,500 gallons daily from 475,000 cubic feet of gas, which is a little less than one gallon per thousand feet of gas treated. As has been noted, the gas of the Wainwright-Fabyan-Irma field tests 25 gallons per thousand feet.

Carbon-black is not well known in Canada for the simple reason that it has never been manufactured within the dominion's borders at any appreciable extent. In strong demand, it returns large profits to the community producing it.

It is used principally in the manufacture of printer's ink and automobile tires. Experimentation in war time brought it into use. To give some idea as to the quantity of carbon-black used in the automobile industry alone it is only necessary to state that it takes 1.34 pounds of carbon-black for an average light. With about 14,000,000 cars in use on this continent and 2,000,000 more being built annually it may be seen how that industry absorbs about 25,000,000 pounds of the product annually.

"King Carbon-black"
The printer's ink business absorbs about 15,000,000 pounds more and the other industries use an equal amount. At present there is a scarcity of carbon black and the New York quotations range from 40 to 50 cents a pound, according to grade.

Utilization of natural gas for the manufacture of carbon-black is of the greatest service in gas fields remote from a domestic market for the gas, and has turned more than one venture from an apparent failure to a financial and economic success.

BULLETIN FROM PROVINCIAL GOVT.

Coal Production Climbs.

The year 1923 will see a new record in Alberta coal production. It is expected the total production for the year will reach 7,000,000 tons, in comparison with less than 6,000,000 last year. The production up to November 1, is 3,500,000 tons greater than the production previously was in 1920, when 6,400,000 tons were produced. The payroll this year will, it is expected, be over $18,000,000.

on frame and the grizzled face, he drove a team from Fargo to Fort Macleod, 1,200 miles in five months one of the dauntless hand of 74; he could tell of the Buffalo and the Black-foot, and of the swift fate that befell Mr. Weatherwax, Indian trader and liquor dealer, who dwelt on the south bank of the Old Man river, and who was waxing fat in the land trading rot-gut whiskey for buffalo robes when the R. N. W. M. P. poked their inconsiderate noses on the scene in October, 1874; and how they first, warned him and then arrested him and imprisoned him, confiscating his whole outfit including hundreds of robes, and how, when he was released, Mr. Weatherwax disappeared into the unknown breathing dire threats of what the president of the United States would do when he heard about the scandalous treatment he had received. And that was the last of Mr. Weatherwax nevertheless his name will, or should live forever for he was the first white man in what is now the province of Alberta, to run foul of the law, and to feel the heavy hand of the mounted police.

He could tell of many, many other happenings if he had time, could that little old man, so could the tall fine looking veteran with the scarred chin,
